Description of Business

Riley Gold Corp. (the “Company”) was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) on June 3, 2011. During the year ended December 31, 2020, the Company incorporated a new subsidiary, RRC Exploration Inc, in the United States. On September 29, 2020, the Company changed its name from Riley Resources Corp. to Riley Gold Corp. The Company’s office is located at Suite 2390 - 1055 West Hastings Street, Vancouver, British Columbia, V6E 2E9. The Company’s common shares on the TSX Venture Exchange (“TSXV”, or the “Exchange”) under the trading symbol RLYG and on the OTCQB Venture Market under the symbol RLYGF.

The Company is a precious metals exploration company engaged in the acquisition and exploration of mineral properties located in the state of Nevada, USA. To date, no mineral development projects have been completed and no commercial development or production has commenced. Based on the information available to date, the Company has not yet determined whether its mineral property contains economically recoverable reserves. The recoverability of the amounts shown for exploration and evaluation costs is dependent upon the discovery of economically recoverable reserves, the ability of the Company to obtain necessary financing to successfully complete their exploration and development programs and ultimately upon future profitable production.

Results of Operations for the Year Ended December 31, 2020

For the year ended December 31, 2020, the Company recorded a net loss of $387,663 versus a net loss of $122,253 incurred during the year ended December 31, 2019. The increase in net loss during the year ended December 31, 2020 is due primarily from an increase in consulting fees ($156,390), share-based payments ($88,742), office supplies and rent ($9,840), and transfer agent and filing fees ($4,916). The increase in consulting fees is due to additional consultants engaged during year ended December 31, 2020. The increase in share-based payments is due to the grant of 1,225,000 share purchase options, and the related vesting during the year end December 31, 2020, whereas only 100,000 share purchase options were granted during the year ended December 31, 2019. The increase in office supplies and rent is due to setting up a secondary Nevada based office and overall increased activity. The increase in transfer agent and filing fees is due to overall increased activity and additional news release filings. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in travel expense ($3,457), which is due to COVID-19 precautions.

Results of Operations for the Three Months Ended December 31, 2020

For the three months ended December 31, 2020, the Company recorded a net loss of $302,645 versus a net loss of $33,133 incurred during the three months ended December 31, 2019. The increase in net loss during the three months ended December 31, 2020 is due primarily from an increase in consulting fees ($137,308), share-based payments ($105,171), and office supplies and rent ($9,003). The increase in consulting fees is due to additional consultants engaged during the three months ended December 31, 2020. The increase in share-based payments is due to the grant of 1,225,000 share purchase options, and the related vesting during the three months ended December 31, 2020, whereas no share purchase options were granted during the three months ended December 31, 2019. The increase in office supplies and rent is due to setting up a secondary Nevada based office and overall increased activity.

Operating Activities

For the year ended December 31, 2020, cash used in operating activities, prior to changes in non-cash working capital, was $276,882 compared to $100,214 used during the year ended December 31, 2019. The increase in cash used is due primarily to the variances as outlined under the "Results of Operations for the Year Ended December 31, 2020" section. For the year ended December 31, 2020, non-cash working capital increased by $169,246, as compared to an increase of $7,758 for the year ended December 31, 2019. The increase in non-cash working capital is primarily the result of an increase in prepaids $174,577, partially offset by an increase in accounts payable and accrued liabilities of $10,503. For the year ended December 31, 2020 cash used by operating activities was $446,128 compared to a use of $107,972 for the year ended December 31, 2019.

Investing Activities

For the year ended December 31, 2020, cash used in investing activities was $281,488. For the year ended December 31, 2019, the total cash used for investing activities was $26,373, which reflects expenditures on mineral property interests.

Financing Activities

For the year ended December 31, 2020, cash provided by financing activities was $2,880,750 (December 31, 2019 - $Nil). The increase in cash provided is due to the completion of a private placement of 15,001,125 units at a price of $0.20 for total gross proceeds of $3,000,225. The proceeds were partially offset by share issuance costs of $119,475.

At December 31, 2020, the Company had working capital of $2,455,050 (December 31, 2019 - $167,025) which consisted of current assets of cash totaling $2,310,754 (December 31, 2019 - $170,049), prepaid expenses of $181,109 (December 31, 2019 - $6,532), and $10,667 (December 31, 2019 - $5,495) in taxes and other receivables. Current liabilities include accounts payable and accrued liabilities of $47,480 (December 31, 2019 - $15,051).

The Company's principal source of liquidity is cash which is raised by way of the sale of common shares from treasury. To date, the Company has relied entirely upon the sale of common shares to provide working capital to fund the administration of the Company. The Company's access to additional capital may not be available on terms acceptable or at all. As the Company relies on equity financings to continue into the future, current market conditions could make it difficult or impossible for the Company to raise necessary funds to meet its longer-term capital requirements. If the Company is unable to obtain financing, it could seek multiple solutions including, but not limited to, credit facilities, asset sales or debenture issuances.

COVID-19

On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization characterized the outbreak of a disease caused by a strain of the novel coronavirus (“COVID-19”) as a pandemic which has resulted in a series of public health and emergency measures that have been put in place to combat the spread of the virus. The duration and impact of COVID-19 is unknown at this time and it is not possible to reliably estimate the impact that the length and severity of these developments will have on the financial results and condition of the Company in future periods.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to apply accounting policies and make estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. There is full disclosure of the Company’s critical accounting policies and accounting estimates in note 3 of the audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020.

The December 31, 2020 financial statements were prepared on a consolidated basis, as there was a newly incorporated subsidiary, whereas, the December 31, 2019 financial statements were not consolidated. There were no other changes to the accounting policies applied by the Company during the year ended December 31, 2020, compared to those applied by the Company to the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2019.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Company is in the business of acquiring and exploring mineral properties. It is exposed to a number of risks and uncertainties that are common to other mineral exploration companies in the same business. The industry is capital intensive at all stages and is subject to variations in commodity prices, market sentiment, exchange rates for currency, inflation and other risks. The Company currently has no source of revenue other than interest on cash balances. The Company relies mainly on equity financing to fund exploration activities on its mineral properties.

The risks and uncertainties described in this section are not inclusive of all the risks and uncertainties to which the Company may be subject.

Early Stage – Need for Additional Funds

The Company has no history of profitable operations and its present business is at an early stage. As such, the Company is subject to many risks common to other companies in the same business, including under-capitalization, cash shortages and limitations with respect to personnel, financial and other resources, and the lack of revenues. There is no assurance that the Company will be successful in achieving a return on shareholders’ investment and the likelihood of success must be considered in light of its early stage of operations.

Exploration and Development

Mineral exploration and development is a speculative business, characterized by a number of significant risks including, among other things, unprofitable efforts resulting not only from the failure to discover mineral deposits, but also from finding mineral deposits that, though present, are of insufficient size and/or grade to return a profit from production.

All of the mineral claims in which the Company has a right to acquire an interest are in the exploration stages only and are without a known body of commercial ore. Upon discovery of a mineralized occurrence, several stages of exploration and assessment are required before its economic viability can be determined. Development of the subject mineral properties would follow only if favorable results are determined at each stage of assessment. Few precious and base metal deposits are ultimately developed into producing mines.

Operating Hazards and Risks

Mining operations involve many risks which even a combination of experience, knowledge and careful evaluation may not be able to overcome. In the course of exploration, development and production of mineral properties, certain risks, and in particular unexpected or unusual geological operating conditions including rock bursts, cave-ins, fires, flooding and earthquakes, may occur. Operations in which the Company has a direct or indirect interest are subject to all the hazards and risks normally incidental to exploration, development and production of mineral deposits, any of which could result in damage to or destruction of mines and other producing facilities, damage to life and property, environmental damage and possible legal liability for any or all damage.

Although the Company maintains liability insurance in an amount which it considers adequate, the nature of these risks is such that liabilities could exceed policy limits, in which event the Company could incur significant costs that could have a materially adverse effect upon its financial conditions.

Foreign Currency Exchange

Foreign currency exchange rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows will fluctuate as a result of changes in foreign exchange rates. Although the Company is considered to be in the exploration stage and has not yet developed commercial mineral interests, the underlying market prices in Canada for minerals are impacted by changes in the exchange rate between Canadian and United States dollars. The Company has not entered into any arrangements to hedge its currency risk but does maintain cash balances within each currency.

Supplies and Infrastructure

The Company's property interests are often located in remote, undeveloped areas and the availability of infrastructures such as surface access, skilled labor, fuel and power at an economic cost cannot be assured. These are integral requirements for exploration, production and development facilities on mineral properties. Power may need to be generated onsite.

Metal Prices

The mining industry, in general, is intensely competitive and there is no assurance that a profitable market will exist for the sale of metals produced, even if commercial quantities of precious and/or base metals are discovered. Factors beyond the control of the Company may affect the marketability of metals discovered. Pricing is affected by numerous factors beyond the Company's control, such as international economic and political trends, global or regional consumption and demand patterns, increased production and smelter availability. There is no assurance that the price of metals recovered from any mineral deposit will be such that it can be mined at a profit.

Title Risks

Although the Company has exercised the usual due diligence with respect to determining title to properties in which it has a material interest, there is no guarantee that title to such properties will not be challenged or impugned. The Company's mineral property interests may be subject to prior unregistered agreements, transfers or native claims, and title may be affected by undetected defects.

Environmental Regulations, Permits and Licenses

The Company's operations are subject to various laws and regulations governing the protection of the environment, exploration, development, production, taxes, labor standards, occupational health, waste disposal, safety and other matters. Environmental legislation in Nevada provide restrictions and prohibitions on spills, releases or emissions of various substances produced in association with certain mining industry operations, such as seepage from tailing disposal areas, which would result in environmental pollution. A breach of such legislation may result in the imposition of fines and penalties. In addition, certain types of operations require the submission and approval of environmental impact statements. Environmental legislation is evolving in a direction of stricter standards and enforcement, and higher fines and penalties for non-compliance. Environmental assessments of proposed projects carry a heightened degree of responsibility for companies and their directors, officers and employees. The cost of compliance with changes in governmental regulations has the potential to reduce the profitability of operations. The Company intends to fully comply with all environmental regulations.

The current operations of the Company require permits from various U.S. authorities and such operations are governed by laws and regulations governing prospecting, development, mining, production, exports, taxes, labor standards, occupational health, waste disposal, toxic substances, land use, environmental, mine safety and other matters.

The Company believes that it is in compliance with all material laws and regulations which currently apply to its activities. However, there can be no assurance that all permits which the Company may require for its operations and exploration activities will be obtainable on reasonable terms, a timely basis or that such laws and regulations would not have an adverse effect on any mining project which the Company might undertake.

Competition and Agreements with Other Parties

The mining industry is intensely competitive in all its phases and the Company competes with other companies that have greater financial resources and technical capacity. Competition could adversely affect the Company's ability to acquire suitable properties or prospects in the future.

The Company may, in the future, be unable to meet its share of costs incurred under such agreements to which it is a party and it may have its interest in the properties subject to such agreements reduced as a result. Also, if other parties to such agreements do not meet their share of such costs, the Company may not be able to finance the expenditures required to complete recommended programs.

Economic Conditions

Unfavourable economic conditions may negatively impact the Company's financial viability. Unfavourable economic conditions could also increase the Company's financing costs, decrease net income or increase net loss, limit access to capital markets and negatively impact the availability of credit facilities to the Company.

Properties held under option

The Company's mineral exploration property is currently held under option. The Company has no ownership interest in this property until all required property expenditures and cash payments have been made.
